Second Annual
Brian O’Connell Lecture

Wednesday, April 14 at 3 pm
Memorial Hall—Constitution Room

Dr. Joseph R. Herkert
“Ethical Challenges of Emerging Technologies”

Dr. Herkert is Lincoln Associate Professor of Ethics and Technology in the School of Letters and Sciences and the Consortium for Science, Policy & Outcomes at Arizona State University. He has taught engineering ethics and science, technology & society courses for more than twenty years. He is editor of Social, Ethical and Policy Implications of Engineering: Selected Readings (Wiley/IEEE Press, 2000), and has published numerous articles on engineering ethics and societal implications of technology in engineering, law, social science, and applied ethics journals.

For more information, please contact:
Laura V. Marchese at (860) 832-2554 or email: marcheselav@ccsu.edu or learn more about the “Brian O’Connell Fund” at www.ccsu.edu/oconnell

Sponsored by CCSU Office of Institutional Advancement and Brian O’Connell Fund.